THE BOLSA LIQUIDATION.

The month's liquidation closes on the Bolsa to-day, and contrary to general expectation closes with gold over and stocks weak. No doubt the superabundant supply of gold in the market since yesterday morning is due to the liberality of the National Bank. And the bank acted otherwise the premium on gold womld have advenced from 10 to 20 points, such was the enormous amount of the transactions in gold pending when Minister Varela cut short the speculation, but next month we shall be freed from the artificial demand caused by the gold ring speculation, and we shall all be in a better position, then to judge of the efficacy of Minister Varela's measure.

It may interest many of our readers who do not frequent the Bolsa to know that yesterday the National Bank gave 4 millions gold in exchange for paper and the day before gave 2 millions, thus 6 millions gold have been thrown on the market in 48 hours. Even in London such an amount of gold would attract notice and show effect, but Bolsa transactions grew to such gigantic demensions here, that the ear, the eye, and the brain of the citizen became accustomed to the most magnificent figures, and this enormous specie transaction of the National Bank which we record, was hardly even spoken of on 'Change yesterday.

It is probable that many years will pass away before we have another gold day like yesterday, since there is really nothing in the country, in our trade or in our commerce to justify such enormous specie payments. Already things are settling in the market to an easier level, and although speculation may run into stocks or shares it can never affect the price of our bread or our salt, as did gold, which spread its vampirical influence over even the clothes we wear.

The curtain has dropped on those memorable liquidation scenes at the end of each month, at least as regards gold, and the days are passed when we all stood round the rail watching the liquidating auctioneer selling thousands and hundreds of thousands, nay, millions of imaginary gold chalked figures, that carried perhaps blue ruin to many a hapless family, and stamped a figure for gold payments to which the whole River Plate world had to bow, even though paying several points a month to keep up the farce 30 days longer.

We have said it, and maintain it, that it is far better for the Plate that all the floating capital in the market should be sent back to Europe, than the country should have to support the monthly payment of usurious passes to keep it in our stocks, our shares or our gold market. Individuals may possibly be able to pay such charges, but in the long run it is the country that has to pay. 36 per cent per annum was up to yesterday a moderate charge for passing gold or stocks on from month to month; we have seen much higher than that amount paid. Such an artificial bolstering up of the market could not hold out for ever, the day of reckoning had to come, and although high passes still may be paid by speculators in stocks, at least it is out short in gold, which is the vital element in the market, since gold affects everything, whilst who cares what they pay to carry over Cedulas or Bank Shares! The country is no poorer. The superabundance of money in this market was felt yesterday. We believe therein far too much paper money for the business requirements of the place, and the Minister ought to look well to this and to the Cedulas. Series O is coming fast on the market and soon we suppose we shall have Series P, but all this must be stopped if we wish to avoid a crisis, and the monthly liquidation when properly studied may afford a good lesson to us all.

THE "TIMES" FORGED LETTERS.

Antibes, Feb. 28

"Para verdades el tiempo" is an adage the wisdom of which is again born out in the forged letters published by the Times regarding Mr. Parnell. To-day's telegrams announce that on Saturday the Home Secretary removed the police guarding Anderton's hotel where Pigott lodged (no doubt to facilitate his escape), and that on Tuesday he wrote a letter from Paris to the Attorney General confessing that he had forged the letters. The telegram adds that the Times on Wednesday morning published an apology to Mr. Parnell, and the Paris papers say that all the staff (that is MacDonald, Buckle and Co.) connected with the management are to be removed. The Government are said to be taking steps for Pigott's arrest, but as they allowed him to escape we can hardly think they will catch him.

You will observe also that on Tuesday night in the House of Commons the Attorney General hurried through the first reading of a bill to permit the Government to refuse the production of documents whose publication they might consider injudicious. This is a scandalous proceeding, worthy of the worst days of the Star Chamber or the Bastille, but the Government will probably succeed in passing the bill, as they have a servile majority in the House, and thus cloak up one of the most disgraceful transactions since the time of Titus Oates.

Dr. Maguire, who paid Pigott £850 for the letters, died suddenly in London on Monday, the same day that Pigott disappeared, and thus the Government is doubly fortunate in the removal of two persons who could have thrown more light than anyone else on the forgeries and the conspirators. It may perhaps be suspected that Dr. Maguire's death was from poison administered either by himself or someone else, but it is just as likely that he died of heart disease at the collapse of the conspiracy, with which his name will be identified. Chief Justice Hannen is evidently desirous of unmasking the whole business, for he allowed Sir Charles Russell to insert in the warrant the name of any officer he preferred, and the latter selected Inspector Shore for the purpose. Nevertheless as the Government has been allied with the Times from the outset (and Mr. W. H. Smith is supposed to be a partner in that paper) we can hardly hope that any serious effort will be made to arrest Pigott.

The Times or their friends have sent the round of the papers a story that the case has already cost Mr. Walter and his partners £80,000, but we see that the witnesses have been hunted up and carried over to England by the Irish police authorities, who have spent public money freely in this way. Moreover, the Attorney General and his officials probably give their services free.

But it is time now to ask, who is to defray Mr. Parnell's costs in defending himself from one of the most infamous conspiracies recorded in history, and in which the Government have joined with one eye closed. His expenses last month had reached £50,000, and the subscriptions received were only £32,000. I am happy to think that mine was one of the first names on the list of subscribers, having sent my donation of £5 from Paris as soon as the subscription was opened. I have no doubt that all lovers of fair-play in Buenos Ayres—whether Irish, English, Scotch, French, German, or Argentine—will contribute one depreciated dollar each towards the triumph of Justice.

What boots it to the cause of honesty whether Pigott drag out the rest of his days in receipt of a Times or Government pension, in obscurity? The Times may have made £60,000 more or less by the forged letters, and hope now to escape with an apology, and the dismissal of MacDonald, Buckle and Soames. But this would be a shame and an infamy. All Englishmen are interested in seeing a great wrong redressed. Mr Parnell has lain for two years under the odium of a deliberate calumny, paid for by the Times. The discovery of Mr Forster's correspondence was the providential means of exposing the forger and his antecedents. It is now merely a question of assessing damages, and I trust that no jury of Englishmen will hesitate to award the largest sum ever known in actions for libel.

If I were on the jury I should give Mr Parnell the exact sum that the Times made out of the forged letters, say £60,000, and also the costs of his suit before the Special Commission, which will hardly fall short of £70,000 when everything is paid. It will then be the turn for the other Irish members, some 65 in number, to lay their claims, which might be reasonably disposed of at £10,000 each. This would make up in all some £200,000, and the lesson would deter Mr Walter and his successors from permitting the Times to fall into such errors, or crimes, or depravities, for the future.

The effect on the Government is happily disastrous, for their conduct has been very bad throughout. The shuffling between Smith and Walter, the hunting for witnesses, the arrest of Harrington (who was aiding Sir C. Russell) and the concealment of public documents, as well as the destruction of private correspondence by Houston (possibly at a hint from the authorities)—all go to make a story of turpitude unparalleled in the nineteenth century. The mischief now recoils on the Ministry.

MONTEVIDEO,

From our own Correspondent

Tuesday, 26th March

Amusements—Yesterday, being a holiday, was given up to amusement. Our English friends chiefly divided their attention between the swimming races at the "Establecimiento Balneario" and the Cricket Match, M. V. C. Club versus the officers of H. M. S. S. Cleopatra and Rifleman.

Some were so determined in their pursuit of pleasure that they managed "to do" both events, or rather the half of each.

As I noticed your own "special sporting correspondent" at the Swimming races, busily taking notes for the Standard, I need only make a few remarks on this subject. The attendance was not so large as might have been expected, but still I noticed a great many well known English faces. The natives were highly pleased with the affair, and several begged the Committee to waste no time in organizing another meeting. There were a few ladies present. The first race, one length of the bath, was won by A. M. Day who made a tremendous effort, T. D. Lawrie being a good second, though he landed very much exhausted. Sport gave $18. The second race, three lengths of bath, was won by a sailor, W. Cooper. Day in this race only went one length of bath. Sport $2.30. The Championship race, of five lengths of the bath, prize presented by the Bathing Establishment, was splendidly won by Mr. W. L. Poole, Edwin Miles 2nd, J. Faram 3rd. Faram led for the first two lengths and was looked upon as the likely man, but Poole, who swims very low in the water, outlasted him. Sport $2.10. The handicap on one length of bath (70 metres) was won by J. Ponce de Leon, A. Luisello 2nd, A. M. Day, 3rd. Sport $10. Only six out of the 13 entries started. The Tub Race proved funny as usual, W. A. Holt travelled backwards and upset several times, while H. Pratt, after going along very gingerly till half way, then filled and sank; Edwin Miles winning easily. Sport $1.90. The Consolation race did not come off, losers refusing to be consoled.

In the Cricket Match, Montevideo went in first making 154, of which B. Robinson put together 31 in a brilliant style, and C. Jefferies carried his bat for 38 very elegantly played. Dutton, Chater, Alexander, and Halstead all made double figures. Binckes was run out for 4. For the navy, E. H. Ellis scored 18 and Leonard 36, their total being 86.

The Navy then went in again, and succeeded in putting together 78 for four wickets, when time was called. In this innings Capt. Musgrave scored 11, Capt. Pike 17, E. H. Ellis 27, and Shee 17; Leonard showed 5 not out.

Death—I regret to have to chronicle the untimely death, at the Pocitos, of Mr. Louis Brelaz, youngest son of Mr. Charles Brelaz. He died on Saturday evening of typhoid fever, after an illness of some three weeks, during which time he was assiduously attended by Dr. Irvine. The funeral took place this morning at 9.30, at the Bucco Cemetery, where the body had been deposited since Sunday, to give time to some of his nearest relations to come from your side of the river to attend the funeral. Young Brelaz was only 24 years of age and was much respected by the Manager of the Gas Company, in whose office he had been employed for some time. His loss will be severely felt by his family, and his early death will be long regretted by a large circle of friends.

Business—Wool and sheepskins reported holding firm; slight improvement in horse hair.

Obras have experienced a big rise to-day, jumped up some 7 points.

J. Norton and Sons have chartered a steamer direct from New York to Montevideo to leave 30th March, rate 30 cents per foot, general cargo.

MINISTER VARELA'S PREAMBLE

Moreover, if I propose to return to the community not only the right but the privilege, which belongs to it, of fixing for itself, by supply and demand in the general market, the legal value of money, and thus to suppress the present monopoly of the Stock Exchanges, I do not in any way attack or modify the individual rights of members of the Stock Exchanges or commercial centres, seeing that they, like every other inhabitant, may buy or sell gold in the market: that is to say, they may exchange gold for paper on the sole condition of not joining a meeting, public or private, to play at differences on the value of the National money.

My desire, without attacking any right is that the price of the purchase or sale of gold, or rather the rate of exchange realized by every inhabitant, should influence the formation of the value of the legal currency, instead of its being fixed, at the ringing of a bell, by a few members of a private association, by means of imaginary operations. The decree which I propose will enable the country to know at what price the legal currency is quoted, as it knows now the quotation of international exchanges; and among other means of information there will be the bulletins of the Stock Exchanges, announcing the value of gold in relation to inconvertible bank notes in the same form that they announce the value of the international exchanges.

What will be the consequences of the total suppression of the quotation of national money on the Stock Exchanges? We shall enter fully upon the wide road of like civilized nations, France, Italy, Austria, Brazil &c. Our market, free from the influences of artificial operations, would see itself submitted for the appreciation of its legal money exclusively to the necessities arising from international exchanges, which may increase or diminish the existence of gold here and abroad, from want of confidence or the desire of converting, a fact which increases the demand for gold but does not diminish the stock within the State, and from our bad system of discounting in gold which, I hope, will be modified by experience. The market would soon be normalized and we should create a perfect banking system, without waste of forces and obeying the impulse of our increasing commercial industry. In this mechanism the legal money would gradually play the part which belongs to it, and we should soon see its value quoted directly, as in other exchanges. The banks and merchants, being able to control the necessities of the market and being the buyers and sellers of gold abroad, would be the buyers and sellers of gold at home, and having to fix the value of their bills of exchange and of their gold in relation to bank notes, they would conclude by harmonising these two values and would buy and sell bills of exchange for paper money, thus creating a simple and comprehensible mechanism instead of the very complicated one now in use. For instance, in selling pounds sterling abroad, instead of quoting exchange at 48 pence per gold dollar, and quoting paper at 150 olo, they would give a simple quotation of $7 1/2 mn per pound sterling to be paid in London, thus facilitating bookkeeping, saving labour and diminishing unnecessary purchases of gold. The merchant would cease to be subject to sudden changes in the value of gold which oblige him to make continual changes in the prices of his commodities, or to raise their price unduly in order to guarantee himself against fluctuations.

I say that the sudden changes will cease, because, if the quotations on the Stock Exchange are suppressed, the value of the paper, dollar will be fixed for the merchant by the value of the international exchanges which he has to buy in order to pay abroad for his merchandise, and he will regulate his prices by the value of those exchanges in paper without troubling himself about the value of gold for local purposes.

If exchanges are established in paper the price of imports will be fixed ipso facto, in paper, because the merchant may, on the same day, or when convenient, buy his bill of exchange with the paper which he receives, without paying any premium for securing gold at fixed rate. This mechanism, by reducing the demand for gold here, will naturally lower the value of the gold offered here.

Lastly, when the risks of violent oscillations in the price of gold are diminished there will be less reason, in fixing the price of commodities, to quote paper below its market value, and this will lead to a relative cheapening in articles of consumption.

The merchant who wishes to buy gold in order to guarantee himself against fluctuations will be able to buy it outside of the Stock Exchange from the persons who now sell it to him there, because the stock of gold and the liberty of exchanging it for notes will be the same, and the only change will be the suppression of gambling under pretence of effecting exchanges.

Besides, the merchants will, here as in foreign countries, make use of the regular operations of credit effected through the banks. What do our importers of salted meat do in Brazil, when they sele in Brazilian money thousands of paper reis?

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

THE SITUATION.

March 1, 10 p. m.

The tape clicks and the speeches of Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Goschen stream out, but it is the old thing. Mr. Gladstone calls for a local government bill for Ireland and presses for a dissolution. Mr. Goschen replies that Ireland is improving every day and the government hopes that with a little more coercion, under their able colleague the Irish Secretary, Ireland will be sufficiently well-behaved to be entitled to local government. Meanwhile the Government intends to abide by the Septennial Act and to pay little heed to Mr. Gladstone's statistics in reference to bye-elections. What will be the government majority no one seems to know, as everything is sixes and sevens. The "classes" are cowed, but they are adepts in staring. There is a cold, hideous stare on them as they accept their misfortunes and wait for something to turn up in their favor. In this hope the Attorney General has once more in the Court of Commission taken up the tale of "outrages in Ireland," a dreary recital which, as the P. M. G. says, the Times may publish the report of, but no other paper will. We may depend upon it, the Judges are anti-Irish—they are of the "classes", and indirectly they may have been consulted by the government, and the mot d'ordre is "Go on" "For God's sake, don't stop," "Let the Judges give the ad interim report they promise next week on the 'Forgeries; meanwhile we must go on," "Continue to stare." At St. Stephens it is very warm indeed for the Government, notwithstanding their diabolical persistence in holding out. Pressed by questions as to what documents were lent by the Government to the Times and what prisoners in Ireland were permitted to be interviewed by the agents of the Times, the wretched Home Secretary, that deceitful cur, Matthews wriggled and prevaricated and at last fairly refused to answer. And behold! the conservative Yankees in the press, the Globe, the Post, the Standard, have screamed with anger at the bare suggestion of there being a "foul conspiracy" behind Pigott, or the possibility of Her Majesty's Government lending aid to the vile paper which is proved to have been guilty of slander if not of conspiracy. Have a care, ye "classes." The question is no longer Parnell and the Irish members. It is no longer Ireland. As could have been seen from the first, it is a much deeper one. Even Tory Liverpool is aroused, and has elected one of the National League officials Secretary of her Reform Club. The Daily Telegraph is on the turn. Even Sir Henry Hawkins has recanted. He is now a Home ruler. Other Unionists are breaking away from the Hartingtonian fold, so that if the Government has to resign this session the Queen has no other alternative but to send for Mr. Gladstone; and that means more than Home Rule for Ireland, it means the "Bethnal Green" democratic programme, or else Mr. Gladstone will lose his last chance and go down to posterity as a confirmed political swindler of the horridest dye. The staring classes know this. The Irish question to them is but a shield. Mr. Chamberlain last night in the House asked to speak with Mr. Gladstone, who sat a seat or two from him. The G. O. M. nodded assent. As he approached, Mr. Chamberlain took off his hat and with smile and obeisance made way for his former leader. They conversed. Soon afterwards Mr. Chamberlain made a speech full of habitual sneers at the very men he had been conversing with, and yet the speech is declared by experts to have been a prayer for re-admission into the Liberal ranks. Bradlaugh hammered him and said: "No, get thee gone; get thee to the other side. We don't want you." Poor Mr. Chamberlain's temper is his great enemy. Sir William Harcourt has just revealed the secrets of the "Round Table" Conference, and says distinctly that Mr. Chamberlain agreed not only to local government in Ireland but to a separate parliament in Dublin—to Home Rule. "Joe" went straightway from his brethren in council and, in a fit of temper, wrote a letter in the Baptist abusing Mr. Gladstone. This closed the conference. It was a pity; for Chamberlain's ungovernable desire to be nasty, at intervals, his fits of bile, were known to Sir William and to Mr. Morley, as they are too well known in Mr. Chamberlain's own household, where he is otherwise esteemed. They should have looked over the letter in the Baptist. Peradventure the G. O. M. would not. Chamberlain was too near his own stature For much as we may despise the skunk-like nature of the man, I, for one, place Chamberlain as a politician—and only as a politician—some cubits higher than John Morley who, with all his literary culture and his freedom of thought, has a twang of the Praise-God-Barebone about him. He is too stiff. He knows it, and his efforts to be genial are awkward. Without the Liberal dissentients Mr. Gladstone is avowedly short of men, unless he is going to take into his cabinet Labouchere, Parnell, Healy and Bradlaugh. I think not. Gladstone is Gladstone, he will miss what Sir William Harcourt alluded to as the "blessing of Lord Selbourne," who was supposed to have bleased the Parnell Commission which Lord Hartington patronised and Mr. W. H. Smith and Sir Henry James instituted for the overthrow of Mr. Parnell. As Sir William told them, "Mr. Parnell has thrown you."

The classes try to console themselves now with the opinion that if Pigott lied to the Times for money he may have lied to Labouchere for money, and after all the letters may not be forged. But to-night Campbell, Mr. Parnell's Secretary, Davitt, O'Kelley, all in the witness box have denied the genuineness of the several letters. Mr. Labouchere denies offering a bribe, and Mr. Sala and Mr. Lewis have described the interview with Pigott. No questions were asked by the Attorney General. These witnesses, and Pigott if he is caught, will reappear. The question is still "will the case proceed? If not, Sir Richard Webster must resign and Sir Edward Clarke will be Attorney General. The object of going on is, of course, to chance a division of the ruinous costs to the Times.

"JACK THE RIPPER."

SIX MUTILATIONS IN NICARAGUA.

SEVERAL MURDERS IN JAMAICA.

A POSSIBLE CLUE TO HIS IDENTITY.

It would seem from the intelligence just received that "Jack the Ripper" has transferred himself from the Old World to the New, and is practising his horrible crimes with as much impunity in the Far West as he did in the East of London. Some time ago it was reported that some unknown criminal had perpetrated several murders of the well-known Whitechapel type upon the outcast women in Jamaica. It will be seen from the paragraph which we quote from the New York Sun, that a similar outbreak of crime has occurred in Nicaragua.

The suggestion is obvious. When the Whitechapel murders were in progress a correspondent in Manchester sent to us an ingenious theory of the murders. He suggested that the murders and mutilations were in all probability performed by a ship's cook, who possibly enough was a Malay on one of the steamers plying to and from the port of London.

The last Whitechapel murder was committed on Lord Mayor's Day, November 9, since which time there have been no similar murders in the East of London.

We now learn that at the beginning of January similar atrocities were taking place in Nicaragua, and that about the end of December equally barbarous mutilations are reported from Jamaica.

It would be interesting to know whether any steamer left the Thames after the 9th of November, and after calling at Jamaica in December proceeded to Central America. If such a steamer exists there seems a strong probability that the murderer will be found among her crew—at any rate, the clue is one which might well be followed up by our detectives.

The New York Sun of the 6th ult. publishes the following special despatch from Managua, Nicaragua, dated January 24:—"Either 'Jack the Ripper' of Whitechapel has emigrated from the scene of his ghastly murders or he has found one or more imitators in this part of Central America. The people have been greatly aroused by six of the most atrocious murders ever committed within the limits of this city. The murderer or murderers have vanished as quicky as 'Jack the Ripper,' and no traces have been left for identification. All of the victims were women, and of the character of those who met their fate at the hands of the London murderer. Like those women of Whitechapel, they were women who had sunk to the lowest degradation of their calling. They have been found murdered just as mysteriously, and the evidences point to almost identical methods. Two were found butchered out of all recognition. Even their faces were most horribly slashed, and in the cases of all the others their persons were frightfully disfigured. Their is no doubt that a sharp instrument violently but dexterously used was the weapon that sent the poor creatures out of the world. Like 'Jack the Ripper's' victims, they have been found in out-of-the-way places, three of them in the suburbs of the town and the others in dark alleys and corners. Two of the victims were found with gaudy jewellery, and from this it is urged that the mysterious murderer has not committed the crimes for robbery. In the cases of the other four a few coins were found on the persons, representing no doubt the prospective consideration for the murderer or murderers. All of the victims were in the last stage of shabbiness and besottedness. In fact in almost every detail the crimes and the characteristics are identical with the Whitechapel horrors. All of the murders occurred in less than ten days, and as yet the perpetrator or perpetrators have not been apprehended. Every effort is being made to bring him or them to justice. The authorities have been stimulated in their efforts by the statement, which seems to be generally accepted, that 'Jack the Ripper' must have emigrated to Central America and selected this city for his temporary abode.

A NEW U. STATES CRUISER.

The dynamite gun cruiser Vesuvius, constructed for the U.S. Government by the Messrs. Crapm, left the latter's shipyard in Kensington, Pa., recently, and a test of her speed was made in Delaware Bay, over a measured course of 4 57-1000 knots. This distance was covered by the Vesuvius in 12:44, a speed of 21 47-1000 knots per hour. The contract calls for a speed of 20 knots an hour. During the run the forboard blower broke down, and for the remaining five minutes that boiler operated under natural draught. This run of 4 57-100 knots was understood as being in lieu of the four runs over the measured mile mentioned in the contract. The Trial Board, however, asked for a second run over the course. This run was made in 15:34, with only two out of the four boilers under forced draught. It is understood that the board will demand another trial. She is a vessel of as distinctively new a type as were the monitors of the days of the civil war. She is a steel ship of 725 tons displacement, 252 feet long over all and 26½ feet wide. She is without masts and practically unarmored. In the forward part of the ship the three pneumatic guns that form her armament are placed. Their muzzles are carried forward and project above the deck near the bow. Originally, 16 degrees was chosen as the degree of elevation, but this has been increased to 18 degrees to avoid ricocheting. They are fifteen inches in diameter, fifty four feet long, and are made of thin cast iron. The full-sized shell for this gun is 14¾ inches in diameter, and its body about seven feet long. Back of the body is a tail fitted with spiral vanes, which secures its alignment and rotation. The body is made of thin drawn brass tubing, and will hold 600 pounds of high explosive dynamite or gelatine, the whole weighing, about 1,500 pounds when charged. This is the largest shell the gun can fire, and the effects of such a heavy charge of explosive can only be surmised. The destruction of an old vessel, one mile distant from the gun, was accomplished with fifty pound charges. The Vesuvius is to throw torpedoes containing twelve times this quantity. Should one explode in the air over a ship the effects of the concussion on her crew would probably be very disastrous. According to the opinion of students of torpedo practice, the submarine explosion of such a shell would destroy a ship twenty or more feet distant. An item of interest in connection with this matter is the appropiation by Congress of $400,000 for pneumatic guns for the United States army. Ten guns will probably be built, to be mounted for coast defence. The colony of Victoria, Australia, and Italy have ordered them, and other governments are in negotiation with the pneumatic gun company. In case of war with a foreign power it seems probable that the United States would have to meet these weapons in the enemy's ranks. She will not be allowed to monopolize so deadly a weapons.

INSPECTOR CORNIANI'S REPORT.—MEMS FROM LA PLATA.—THE BANCO COLONIZADOR E. DAVILA AND CO. THE ROSARIO RAILWAY.

Inspector Corniani has issued an interesting report on the progress of the works on the Monte Caseros, Corrientes and Posadas Railway, which Messrs. Clarck are rapidly building. The report before us is for the month of February, and although of state date is none the less interesting. In the course of February 204,338 cubic metres of clay were thrown up making a total of 1,682,213. The earthworks now stretch over 186 kilometres. During the month 48 bridges were finished, and 15 of these were begun and completed in February alone. Rails were laid as far as kilometre 14 from Monte Caseros and kil. 7 from Corrientes. Besides which 5 kilometres were laid at Santo Tome. There were about 4000 navvies at work on the line in February, the course of which month the contractors received 2 locomotives, 24 wagons, 15 carriages, 810 tons of rails, and 280 tons of various material for bridge-work. On the whole the works are being very briskly pushed ahead.

A very lengthy correspondence appears to have taken place between the Manager of the Andine Railway and Inspector Fernandez, who is determined to have the line placed in proper working order. The Inspector wrote to Mr. Romero, the manager, informing him that it was necessary to put on more carriages for the passenger-traffic. The manager in reply said that it was not necessary to run more carriages for the simple reason that the increase in the traffic was merely of an accidental nature. Letter followed letter, until the Inspector cut short the quarrel by writing to Dr. Araoz, who received the whole correspondence yesterday and will no doubt back up his inspector.

We observe with a feeling of satisfaction that the Rosario Railway Company are beginning to follow our advice and to settle privately, without having recourse to law, with the survivors of the Bancalari disaster. Already arrangements have been made to pay $4000 to one man who lost his wife and family in that terrible catastrophe. The policy is a good one and we should advise the manager to settle all clarims in this amicable way. It is far preferable to the court-ordeal, in which the company would come out as unfortunately as the victims at Bancalari.

Our La Plata exchanges published yesterday a lengthy report, or "informe", as they call it, from the Provincial Engineers' Department in the dispute between the Banco Colonizador and Messrs. Davila and Co. After dwelling in a tedious detail the Department comes to the rather questionable conclusion that it cannot as yet decide the case. In other words we may prepare for another technical bombardment. As we have already, in previous issues, given the details of this dispute, we shall not tax the patience of our readers with a repetition of the particulars of the case.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The rain yesterday—light as it was—made a good many fat people happy, as it cooled the air. The heat, for this time of the year, is quite abnormal. It is the same up country, and in B.O. In some provinces the extraordinary summer rains are still pouring down at intervals. San Luis and San Juan were nearly washed out a few days ago.

A man was found hanged a few days ago in a house in Calle Moreno, and the police are said to be cudgelling their brains as to whether it is a murder or a suicide! This is funny. Murderers are not in the habit of choosing a rope for the happy despatch of their victims.

Montevideo is talking of the narrow escape of a 'concecido comerciante.' It appears that by mere chance, through accidently coming on a letter, he discovered that his wife intended to poison him. She and a young clerk in his office have been arrested.

We are requested to remind English-speaking people at the Boca of the Mission Service at the Hall, 1190 General Brown Street, to-morrow evening at 7½ o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Stockton of the American Church will preach.

The Minister of the Interior yesterday approved the plan of the Postmaster-General to extend the Post Office Orders and Parcels Post system all over the Republic. This will be an immense convenience for the public.

There is a new telegraph concern in the field. We were informed yesterday from official quarters that Mr. Robert A. Broughton has applied to Government for authority to erect a line of telegraph from here to Valparaiso.

Lord Mayor Cranwell yesterday paid a visit to the works of the Casa de Aislamento, which is to be opened shortly.

We were informed late last night on good authority that the total discount of the National Bank for the last two days was 2,453,000, instead of over 5000,000 as reported.

We received the following yesterday:—

Dear Standard

"The Choir of the English Church have for the past few Sundays attempted a novelty after the sermon in the form of a Gregorian Tone or "Miserere", with recitative by the priest. Either from the majority of the Choir not having been taught, or not knowing the meaning of a "Miserere", a beautiful effect has been missed. Webster describes a "Miserere" as a "psalm appointed for penitential acts", another authority as "a lamentation", while a high musical authority describes it as a psalm "presented to malefactors on the point of death". Now as a good few members "sing their sing" in a decidedly jocund strain, the effect is more easily imagined than described. It is due to some of the members to say that, recognizing this defect or excess, they refrained from singing. The conception of the Solo by Rev. Luckman is appropriate, but it should be unaccompanied, and the organ accompaniament throughout be less ponderous.

Yours truly
X. Y."

"The Crown Prince Rudolph's debts amount to £400,000, although he had an income of £150,000 a year, and his palaces and country places cost him nothing, as they were kept up for him. Where the money went nobody knows; while a great deal of the Prince's jewellery, of which he had a very large and valuable collection, has disappeared.—Truth."

By our advertisement columns it will be seen that a new English school opens on the 2nd of April at Flores under the management of the Rev. A. G. Lennox Robertson M. A. of Cambridge and Capt. Ellis-Arthur of Eton College. We understand that it is the object of the Principals to give their pupils a thorough English, French, Mathematical and Classical education, and we think that a first-class educational establishment of this kind should have a prosperous future. We wish it every success. The present quarters are at 217 Calle Rivadavia, San Jose de Flores.

The Bishop of the Falkland Islands, Dr. Stirling, will preach at Trinity Church, Lomas, to-morrow, at 11.30 morning service.

The Lottery Agencies had rather a hot day of it on Thursday. The Chief of Police planned a simultaneous raid on them; his secret was well kept, and, at 2 p. m. sharp down pounced "la autoridad" on 26 of the marked establish

Under the heading of "Each Nation's Gem" a clever French lady has prepared the following schedule of the world's taste in jewelry: Oriental—beautiful stones, poorly cut and poorly mounted. Russian—Faultless stones, mountings which lack style. The jewelry is rich, but without taste or originality. English—Choice stones, mountings beastly and excessively heavy. German—Poverty-stricken and in bad taste. Austrian—Heavier than the English, taste on a par with the German. Italian—Has not advanced since the days of Pompeii. Spanish—Nothing but votive offerings. French—With mediocre stones, a little gold and much taste, incomparable jewelry is produced.

Matters were much easier in the market to-day, thanks to the prompt and very effective assistance lent by the National Bank, which gave over two millions gold yesterday at rates averaging about 159; and, indeed, were it not for this timely policy the exchange shops would have asked 65 o/o for gold to-day. The situation may be considered safely tided over, and events must now be allowed to mature before any definite course can be marked out for the current of prices. The majority of dealers think that for the moment prices must keep up. There is no hope of quotations sinking of their own accord until the market is fairly convinced of the practical working of the Minister's policy; and it is to be hoped that no false pressure will be brought to bear on prices to afford a specious and unreal appearance of progress so doubly detrimental when uncloaked. A fair trial is advisable from every standpoint, and will do away with many false impressions, prejudice, and threadbare theory. As for stocks, they all seem to be on their way up again, after prolonged and accentuated depression. It was only reasonable to suppose that gold speculation suppressed, stocks would soon show improvement, and facts confirm the anticipation. Almost every stock quoted is advancing steadily. National Bank Shares are quoted to-day at 263, although a short time ago as low as 257. Credito Real and Constructors have made similar progress. Cedulas alone have been firm and constant in quotation.

The liquidation drawing near has given rise to more than ordinary activity in "passes." Yesterday the rate was four points, say 2 o/o, but to-day up to 2½ o/o was asked and done in some cases, and at the close the rate was 4½ points, say 2¼ o/o. This shews what a lot of shares are offering for sale in the market, as the interest is very high and altogether beyond the reach of legitimate business.

Operations in stocks to-day at the first hour were brisk for all descriptions. In National Bank Shares the tendency was for a fall, but the large "pass" offering brought in many buyers, and rates closed firm at 263 for end of month and end of April. La Plata Moles shew same weak-kneed tendency, being down to 126 for end of month, but as there is a "pass" of five points for April, they can scarcely fall lower. Credito Real keep up. French Bank Shares were a trifle weaker at 17 and 18 o/o premium; they were done a few days ago at 20 o/o, and have been up to 30 o/o. Bolsa Bank Shares have been bought and sold at 60.50 to 59.50 for cash. Constructors looked like taking another meteoric spurt, and shot up to 128 for cash and 128.50 for end of month, but there are so many sellers offering at higher rates that a further advance is not considered probable for the moment.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the first ring:—

It is a good sign to see even one Centro Agricola petition refused, as it shews that the Department on whom the onus of a terrible responsibility will rest is opening its eyes to the gravity of the situation. Yesterday the Agricultural Department advised the Minister to refuse the petition for the Weigel Munoz "centre" in Dolores, as the land on which it is proposed to be formed is mainly composed of irreclaimable swamp and marsh. There is still time to correct a growing abuse.

Owing to the resignation of the Camara Sindical "en masse," an extraordinary general meeting of members will be held on the 8th April to elect a new board. The news came with surprise on the market, as the majority of members thought that matters had already begun to run in a normal groove; but there cannot be a shadow of doubt that the present board has taken the most dignified course open to them by soliciting from the assembly of members an expression of opinion as to their action and attitude under the late trying circumstances. It will be recollected that a very large number of members expressed open dissatisfaction with the Camara's attitude. It now remains to be seen whether the malcontents are in a majority or not.

Two most important sales of property are reported in Flores. Mr. P. Botto has sold to Mr. P. Menvielle a property measuring 180x299 metres in Calle Boedo, near the Navarro Viola, Tamino, Malaver and Marmal properties, for the round sum of 350,000 dollars. The other sale is of a property in same street containing 168,513 square metres for 292,000 dollars, buyers Messrs. Ramirez, Gutierrez and Carcova and seller Mr. Anselmo Gamedio.

The Supreme Federal Court finally decided yesterday in favour of Mr. C. M. Randel, of Antwerp, represented here by Mr. A. Oostendorp, the important question that the titles he got in 1875 of the province of Cordoba are absolutely perfect, although the lands were afterwards adjudicated to the province of Santa-Fe, through the settlement of the limits between the provinces of Buenos Aires, Cordoba and Santa-Fe. In consequence of this judgment, the new titles given by Santa-Fe to other parties are null and void. The province of Santa-Fe has further been condemned to pay costs, which will be very heavy. The counsel who conducted this valuable case is the eminent lawyer Hugo A. Bunge.

The s.s. Marima, bound for Zarate to receive a cargo of cereals, went aground yesterday off the Vuelta de San Antonio. This makes the second vessel in difficulty at the same spot.

We see by advices from the Mount 36,000 dollars in specie was received yesterday from this city. It is said that the concern Tramvia del Norte about to be taken up by the Obras company will cost about 3 million dollars.

Advices from Santa Fe colonies announce important transactions in cereals for account of B. Ayres firms; prices are reported firm.

Mr. Owen who was welcomed a few days ago, and goes to the North-west of the Republic to put up a gold mill, represents a Belgian and not a French Co. as we said by mistake.

The month's liquidation up to 5 p.m. this evening was still far from being closed, and spite of the large amount of gold let go by the National Bank, still gold was in demand and buyers at 159.70.

Exchange this afternoon was very active, and the effect of so much ready gold in the market was beginning to be felt; most people think the letting go the gold was another financial blunder. The total amount of francs to be had in the market is four millions. The rates are as follows:—

	Bank	Com.	Paper
On Paris.....	4.94 fcs.	4.98fcs.	3.11 fcs.
On Antwerp .	4.96 fcs.	5.00fcs.	3.13 fcs.
On London...	46d.	47d.	29 7/16d.

Telegrams from Paris to-day give sovereigns 25.34.

The fast Italian packet Vittoria's mails were delivered to-day. They are the latest dates received.

There will be only one ring to-morrow, from 2.30 p.m. to 3.30 p.m., which will be the starting of the new system now in force.

Up to a late hour there was no small anxiety expressed to know how the month's liquidation in gold was progressing, as the high prices quoted yesterday for the precious metal betokened a large "descubierto." However, it transpired that the National Bank had again stepped into the breach to-day, and it was said to no less an amount than 5 millions. The very dimensions of this sum shew how matters stood. Gold was in consequence quoted at lower rates in the exchange shops, and could be had under 60 o/o. In stocks, owing to the heavy "passing" business done for next month, the liquidation passes off very quietly and without any decline in rates. National Bank Shares closed this evening at 262 for end of month and end of April. Credito Real, which were heavily dealt in, closed at 134 for end of month and 137.50 for end of April. These rates shew the stiff interests paid to pass the shares from month to month.

We take the following interesting items from the South American Journal:—
"Mr. F. K. Smithies will read a paper this evening, before the Foreign and Colonial Section of the Society of Arts, on 'The Argentine Republic.' The subject is one which deeply interests many of our readers."

"During the past week we have presented the petition, referred to in our last issue, in favour of conceding telegraphic press rates for the transmission of press news to and from South America. Receipt of the petition has been duly acknowledged by all the English companies concerned."

"The Dominion of Canada is very desirous of promoting commercial relations with South America, and particularly with Brazil and the Argentine Republic. With this object they sent Mr. Simeon Jones on a mission to those countries, and his report on his visit has just been presented to the Canadian Parliament. Mr. Jones has formed a favourable opinion as to the "commercial possibilities," but decides that regular steamship communication is absolutely necessary before any important results can be expected. He suggests the granting of subsidies to accomplish this object, and before long lines of steamers between Canada and South America may be established."

At long last the 21 English families per s.s. Donau got started yesterday. Mr. Sunblad having been on his feet literally day and night for the last 78 hours since he received positive orders from Dr. Quirno Costa. They go to Gartland's new colony at Naposta, amply provided with everything in the shape of beds, tents and cooking utensils, also a box of medicine from Sr. Magnasco.
